Instructor Biographies:

Paula Domenici, Ph.D., is one of the Directors of Training and Education at the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) in Bethesda, Maryland. She manages and implements CDP training programs for enhancing mental health providers' knowledge of military culture and evidence-based treatments to help address the unique needs of military members, veterans and their families. This includes helping to oversee Star Behavioral Health Providers (SBHP), a training and referral program developed with the Military Family Research Institute at Purdue University, that is expanding Army and Air National Guard members' access to behavioral health care from trained civilian providers across the country. She also presents workshops to clinicians on military-related behavioral health topics. Dr. Domenici specializes in trauma and the treatment of PTSD using Prolonged Exposure Therapy. When she first joined CDP in 2006, she worked at the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland in the outpatient clinic and inpatient casualty care unit. Earlier in her career, she was an APA Congressional Fellow in Washington, DC, as well as a Staff Psychologist at the San Francisco VA Medical Center in California.

Diana C. Dolan, PhD, CBSM, DBSM, is a clinical psychologist serving as an Assistant Director of Training & Education with the Center for Deployment Psychology at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. Dr. Dolan has served at CDP in several capacities since 2012, including in one role as the associate training director of an APA-accredited clinical psychology internship. She currently oversees programs that provide evidence-based training for military-connected patients on a variety of topics. She also develops and presents trainings, and provides consultation services.

Dr. Dolan graduated from the University of North Texas with a bachelor's degree in psychology and earned her doctorate in clinical health psychology and behavioral medicine from the University of North Texas. She completed a clinical psychology internship at Wilford Hall Ambulatory Surgical Center in San Antonio, Texas. Dr. Dolan served as an active duty psychologist and is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force.

Dr. Dolan's professional interests include behavioral treatment of health conditions, in particular sleep disorders and within brief-natured primary care settings, clinical psychology training and program evaluation, and military psychology. She is certified in Behavioral Sleep Medicine by the American Board of Sleep Medicine. She is also a diplomate in Behavioral Sleep Medicine from the Board of Behavioral Sleep Medicine.

Allison Hannah, MSW, LCSW is a Military Behavioral Health Social Worker for the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. She assists in the implementation and expansion of the Star Behavioral Health Providers Program (SBHP). SBHP trains civilian behavioral health providers to work with service members, veterans, and their families. The mission is to expand the availability of high-quality behavioral health services, especially for those in the reserve components.

Allison is a Veteran of the United States Army and United States Army Reserves. During Allison's time in the military from 2003 through 2016, she served in various occupation specialties as a bridgecrew member, chaplain assistant, and most recently as a Human Resources Officer. While serving in the active duty component, Allison deployed to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom 09-11. She also held additional duties during her tenure training service members in suicide prevention and as a victim advocate with the Sexual Harassment and Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) program.

Allison received her Bachelor of Social Work from University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, MN in 2007 and her Master of Social Work from Loyola University Chicago in 2015. Allison is currently pursuing her Doctor of Social Work from the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, MN.

Allison's previous clinical work includes positions in community mental health, the Iowa City Health Care System in the Homeless Veteran Program and with the Defense Health Agency within the Child and Family Behavioral Health Services section at an active-duty Army base. Allison is trained in Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT) and is a Registered Play Therapist™ specializing in using evidence-based approaches to address trauma, adjustment and attachment related disorders.

Jeffrey H. Cook, Ph.D., is a clinical psychologist serving as the Director of Training and Education for the Center for Deployment Psychology at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. In this capacity, he oversees the Center's research efforts and program evaluation of the Center's training programs.

Dr. Cook retired from the Navy after 23 years of service in the United States Navy and Marine Corps. Dr. Cook served in various capacities during his military career including Marine reservist, Navy corpsman, and clinical psychologist. As an active duty psychologist, he served as the Mental Health Division Officer in Okinawa, Japan, ship psychologist on the U.S.S. George Washington, and as the Department Head for the Psychological Health and Traumatic Brain Injury Program at NNMCMC Bethesda, MD. He deployed to Fallujah, Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, as well as other brief deployments during his career.

Dr. Cook graduated from the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences with a doctorate in clinical psychology and completed a clinical psychology internship at the National Naval Medical Center (NNMCMC), Bethesda MD. He currently serves as adjunct faculty at USUHS.

Dr. Cook's professional interests include cognitive behavioral therapy, dissemination and implementation of evidence-based treatment approaches, program evaluation, and combat-related PTSD.
