Instructor Biographies:

Paula Domenici, Ph.D., is one of the Directors of Training and Education at the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) in Bethesda, Maryland. She manages and implements CDP training programs for enhancing mental health providers' knowledge of military culture and evidence-based treatments to help address the unique needs of military members, veterans and their families. This includes helping to oversee Star Behavioral Health Providers (SBHP), a training and referral program developed with the Military Family Research Institute at Purdue University, that is expanding Army and Air National Guard members' access to behavioral health care from trained civilian providers across the country. She also presents workshops to clinicians on military-related behavioral health topics. Dr. Domenici specializes in trauma and the treatment of PTSD using Prolonged Exposure Therapy. When she first joined CDP in 2006, she worked at the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland in the outpatient clinic and inpatient casualty care unit. Earlier in her career, she was an APA Congressional Fellow in Washington, DC, as well as a Staff Psychologist at the San Francisco VA Medical Center in California.

Carin M. Lefkowitz, Psy.D., is a clinical psychologist and Senior Military Behavioral Health Psychologist at the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. Dr. Lefkowitz earned her M.A. and Psy.D. in clinical psychology at Widener University, with a concentration in cognitive-behavioral therapy.

Prior to joining the CDP, she served as a psychologist at the Philadelphia VA Medical Center. In this capacity she provided individual and group psychotherapy with a focus on evidence-based treatments for PTSD and insomnia. She also served as a clinical supervisor to Vet Center clinicians, and psychology interns and practicum students at the Medical Center. Dr. Lefkowitz was a therapist on studies of evidence-based treatments for insomnia and traumatic nightmares, and coordinated the Medical Center's Cognitive Processing Therapy program.

Dr. Lefkowitz has published peer reviewed articles on prolonged exposure treatment for PTSD and innovative training options in sleep disorders. She is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Medical and Clinical Psychology at USUHS and maintains an adjunct instructor appointment with the Institute for Graduate Clinical Psychology at Widener University. She was previously an adjunct instructor in Chestnut Hill College's graduate psychology program and a Clinical Associate of the University of Pennsylvania's department of psychiatry.

Brian Ludden, Ed.D., LMHC, LPC, is a Military Behavioral Health Counselor at the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) within the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. In this role, he supports the implementation and expansion of the Star Behavioral Health Providers Program (SBHP), which trains civilian behavioral health providers to effectively support service members, veterans, and their families. This initiative aims to increase the availability of high-quality behavioral health services, particularly for those in the National Guard and Reserve.

A veteran of the United States Army, Brian transitioned from military service after a medical discharge in 2009 and dedicated his career to mental health support for the armed forces and their families. While serving as the Military Connected Student Support Specialist with the School District of Clay County under a Department of Defense Education Activities (DoDEA) grant, he facilitated the placement of Military and Family Life Counselors (MFLC) in local schools to support military-connected students.

Brian earned his Master of Clinical Mental Health Counseling from the University of North Florida in 2012, followed by a Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership from the same institution in 2017. His extensive clinical experience encompasses community mental health, substance abuse treatment, school-based therapy, specialized therapeutic foster care, pediatric and family-based treatment, and private practice. He specializes in treating anxiety, PTSD, and grief, with a focus over the past 11 years on providing care to military service members and their families.

Identifying as a Humanist Therapist, Brian is dedicated to creating a therapeutic environment where clients feel seen, heard, and empowered. He believes in the inherent potential within everyone to grow, heal, and find meaning in their lives.

Jeffrey H. Cook, Ph.D., is a clinical psychologist serving as the Director of Training and Education for the Center for Deployment Psychology at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. In this capacity, he oversees the Center's research efforts and program evaluation of the Center's training programs.

Dr. Cook retired from the Navy after 23 years of service in the United States Navy and Marine Corps. Dr. Cook served in various capacities during his military career including Marine reservist, Navy corpsman, and clinical psychologist. As an active duty psychologist, he served as the Mental Health Division Officer in Okinawa, Japan, ship psychologist on the U.S.S. George Washington, and as the Department Head for the Psychological Health and Traumatic Brain Injury Program at NNMCMC Bethesda, MD. He deployed to Fallujah, Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, as well as other brief deployments during his career.

Dr. Cook graduated from the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences with a doctorate in clinical psychology and completed a clinical psychology internship at the National Naval Medical Center (NNMCMC), Bethesda MD. He currently serves as adjunct faculty at USUHS.

Dr. Cook's professional interests include cognitive behavioral therapy, dissemination and implementation of evidence-based treatment approaches, program evaluation, and combat-related PTSD.
