Instructor Biographies:

Paula Domenici, Ph.D., is one of the Directors of Training and Education at the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) in Bethesda, Maryland. She manages and implements CDP training programs for enhancing mental health providers' knowledge of military culture and evidence-based treatments to help address the unique needs of military members, veterans and their families. This includes helping to oversee Star Behavioral Health Providers (SBHP), a training and referral program developed with the Military Family Research Institute at Purdue University, that is expanding Army and Air National Guard members' access to behavioral health care from trained civilian providers across the country. She also presents workshops to clinicians on military-related behavioral health topics. Dr. Domenici specializes in trauma and the treatment of PTSD using Prolonged Exposure Therapy. When she first joined CDP in 2006, she worked at the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland in the outpatient clinic and inpatient casualty care unit. Earlier in her career, she was an APA Congressional Fellow in Washington, DC, as well as a Staff Psychologist at the San Francisco VA Medical Center in California.

Timothy Rogers, PhD., is currently employed by the Henry Jackson Foundation as an Assistant Director for Training and Education at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences Center for Deployment Psychology. He is responsible for managing the development, delivery, and evaluation of a range of clinical training and research programs and serves as a subject matter expert/trainer on evidence-based psychotherapies for Posttraumatic Stress Disorder and Insomnia.

Dr. Rogers received his Ph.D. in 2009 in Counseling Psychology at the University of Akron. He completed his Clinical Psychology Residency at Wilford Hall Medical Center and served over six years as an active-duty psychologist and deployed in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. Dr. Rogers also served for six years as the Associate Program Director for the USAF Clinical Psychology Internship at Wilford Hall in San Antonio Texas. Research interests include help-seeking behaviors, PTSD and insomnia treatment, and training in health service psychology. Dr. Rogers currently serves as an APA accreditation site visitor team chair for DoD and VA Clinical Psychology Internships.

Lisa French, Psy.D., is a Senior Military Behavioral Health Psychologist at the Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. Dr. French is a suicide prevention subject matter expert and trainer who joined the CDP in 2011 as a deployment behavioral health psychologist at Wilford Hall Ambulatory Surgical Center following active duty service in the United States Air Force (USAF). During her time at CDP, she has served in multiple roles. Currently Dr. French is a military spouse residing in Germany and is a Parakar employee collaborating with the Henry M. Jackson Foundation in support of the CDP.

Dr. French received her bachelor's degree in psychology from Oregon State University and her master's and doctorate degrees in clinical psychology from Pacific University in Forest Grove, Oregon. She is a 2003 graduate of the Wright-Patterson USAF Medical Center Psychology Residency Program. Dr. French served as an active duty USAF psychologist from 2002-2011 and deployed to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom in 2006.

As a military spouse, Dr. French continues to experience military life daily and has first-hand understanding of the demands of military service on the family. Her professional interests include dissemination and implementation of evidence-based treatment approaches, the impact of military life on the family, and suicide prevention and treatment.

Jeffrey H. Cook, Ph.D., is a clinical psychologist serving as the Director of Training and Education for the Center for Deployment Psychology at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. In this capacity, he oversees the Center's research efforts and program evaluation of the Center's training programs.

Dr. Cook retired from the Navy after 23 years of service in the United States Navy and Marine Corps. Dr. Cook served in various capacities during his military career including Marine reservist, Navy corpsman, and clinical psychologist. As an active duty psychologist, he served as the Mental Health Division Officer in Okinawa, Japan, ship psychologist on the U.S.S. George Washington, and as the Department Head for the Psychological Health and Traumatic Brain Injury Program at NNMCMC Bethesda, MD. He deployed to Fallujah, Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, as well as other brief deployments during his career.

Dr. Cook graduated from the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences with a doctorate in clinical psychology and completed a clinical psychology internship at the National Naval Medical Center (NNMC), Bethesda MD. He currently serves as adjunct faculty at USUHS.

Dr. Cook's professional interests include cognitive behavioral therapy, dissemination and implementation of evidence-based treatment approaches, program evaluation, and combat-related PTSD.
